ASSYSTEM

New Chief Executive Officer for Assystem in Germany

Hamburg, 29 April 2010 – Assystem, a leading Innovation and Engineering consultancy, appointed Ulrich O. Feik to lead and develop the Group's business in Germany. In cooperation with the management of the subsidiaries of Assystem in Germany – Assystem Aerospace Germany GmbH and Atena Engineering GmbH – and in close collaboration with SILVER ATENA GmbH, Ulrich Feik will further leverage the core competencies of the Assystem Group in Germany to drive growth in R&D outsourcing as well as plant and process engineering in areas such as Aerospace, Automotive, Turbo Engines, Defence and Energy. The aim is for Assystem to become a best-in class, leading engineering service provider in Germany.

Ulrich Feik has stepped into the position of CEO of Assystem Deutschland GmbH after having gathered years of management and consulting experience in the IT industry and the technical field. As a member of the board of the TÜV Rheinland Group, he was responsible for the areas marketing, sales, organization and new business.

Dominique Louis, Chairman of the Management Board of Assystem, said referring to the appointment: "Ulrich Feik with his extensive expertise and years of experience is ideally suited to assume his new role successfully. He has international experience, is customer-oriented and has an excellent knowledge of the Engineering Services sector. Ulrich Feik will be a great addition to the Assystem team, bringing new momentum and strong leadership for the best satisfaction of our customers."
